

James Ferraro of Ferraro Behavior Services, LLC

“I am writing this testimonial in regards to my experience with David Culp & Co. LLP. I currently am administrating a small business which serves clients with various behavior disorders. I was never trained on accounting or all the laws associated with running a business. I originally had an accountant out of the Indianapolis area for several years. My experience with that accounting firm was horrible mainly because they didn’t seem to care about taking the time to explain all of the complexities involved. When I had my first meeting with Kevin Wenger I began to understand issues that were effecting my business. He took the time to answer all of my questions and listen to my concerns. He explained the accounting process in a way that made sense to me. I have very much appreciated his approach and would recommend the firm to anyone especially any small business. My tax projections for last year were very accurate and I feel more informed on the accounting aspects of the business. Based on my experience with this firm, I believe they actually care about the well-being of the clients they serve. I have recommended several others to this firm and will continue to do so.”

DAVID CULP & CO. LLP
Certified Public Accountants

